1. Starting from the entrance to the Quay head for the far left hand corner of the open space and go through a short alley to Church Green and the church.

Pass the church on your right and follow the churchyard wall around to the right. Keep to the road as it turns left then right as it passes through the cemetery.

- At the end turn left following a signpost indicating the Walls Walk.
Just after the cottages on your left take the track up onto the walls.
- Follow the path along the walls until you reach a point where there is an open area on your left. Keep to the right of the open space and follow the wall as it bears left.

The path drops down to the road. Carry on straight ahead and down the hill to the main road. (At this point, St Martin on the Walls, Wareham's Saxon Church, which is worth a visit is 50 m along the road on your left.)

Go across the road and go up Shatters Hill, which is almost directly opposite. Go straight on at the first junction.

- At the first opportunity take a path on your right back up onto the walls.
Keep to the top of the walls, dropping down occasionally to cross a road.
- When you pass a car park on your right, drop down to the road junction and take Pound Lane which lies opposite just to your left.

Proceed down Pound Lane passing the old brewery on your right and then turn right into Tanners Lane and then left into Abbots Quay. This leads to the main road and the Quay is then opposite, across the road.
